“ David Roystan Lawrence was born in Philadelphia Pennsylvania on January 7, 1987 to Alia Newman and Troy Lawrence. David grew up, with his mother, in Detroit, MI. He was a graduate of Cranbrook Schools, in Bloomfield Hills, MI, Class of 2005 and a graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where he completed his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Economics, Class of 2009. Upon graduation, David was offered a full-time position with Morgan Stanley, in New York City, where he was responsible for business consulting, project management, and business integration for client hedge fund companies. In 2014 David was promoted to Vice President of Prime Brokerage Sales and relocated from New York City to San Francisco, California. David passed away October 23, 2018. He was a friend and a mentor to many; a loving son, grandson, nephew, and cousin. He has gone too soon and will be missed. He leaves behind to cherish his memory: mother, Alia Newman Flowers (Richard Flowers); father, Troy Lawrence (Donna Lawrence); maternal grandmother, Peggy Newman; paternal grandmother, Beryl Hulse; uncle, Neal Newman; aunts, Hameera Brooks (Eric Brooks) and Kay Lawrence; great aunt, Carolyn Burgette; a host of other aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends to celebrate his life.

“ I just read of this and wish I had come to service. I loved David at Cranbrook and he was such a fine young man taken too soon. I send our love on behalf of his football team where he led us to our first playoff win. Baruch HaShem.

“ David, it was a privilege to know you. Even though we never had much time to hang out I always enjoyed being in your presence. But I knew you enough to know we lost a great one. God be with you and your family.

“ David was a dear friend of mine at Cranbrook. I've never seen anybody with a better sense of self-governance. Peer pressure may have been the only thing in this world that he didn't understand. David had no concept of it. He did what he thought was right and didn't care much what anyone else thought. It drove me crazy when I disagreed with him, but drove me even crazier when I so often realized he was right.

He was not "David" to me. He was "D-Law". And I'll always be grateful for having had him in my life. If I needed his help, I knew he would show up on time and do an incredible job with whatever it was.

The world was better because he was here. I will tell my kids about him and always use him as an example to emulate.

I'll miss you, my friend. I hope they have some sick Air Force Ones in Heaven.

"D-Law, where you getting them colors? Are you dyeing 'em?"

“ David was my student and advisee at Cranbrook Kingswood School. Time and distance separated us; however, two years ago David reached out to me via email to let me know how much I meant to him as his teacher. I received that email on one of those days where I was questioning my career choice. David's message lifted me and confirmed why I do what I do. It is students like David. Rest In Peace, David. You made an indelible impact on this world and on this teacher's life.
