“Missing you more than anything. Your infectious laugh and smile are forever in my head and heart. I love you more than anything in this world. We are all so lucky to have you grandpa. You made me feel safe and protected my whole life, I never had to worry about a thing with you. All the sleepovers all the trips, I hold those so close to my heart. One of the last things you said to me was “Gougherty’s are tough as shit you’re gonna be okay sweetie.” Said the toughest man I’ll ever know. I’ll see you again one day, until then I’m gonna live for you. I’ll never forget you ever grandpa.

“ The first time I met Alan, he immediately treated me like an old friend. He was great to chat with. A very warm and caring man. You could tell he loved his family dearly, especially the grandkids. He will truly be missed by everyone that ever met him.

I pray that his family and friends find peace knowing that he's still looking after them all.

Alan, it was a pleasure knowing you. Until we meet again.....

“ My grandpa was always a rock in a bad storm. Someone I could count on every time to talk to or vent. A get away from chaos. his house in Southfield was a safe haven for me. He was a safe haven for me, always offering a new perspective on something I was struggling with or just simply being a phone call away I knew I could always count on him to be there for me. I know he impacted so many lives around him I was always in awe of what a good person he was and how many people respected him. I will always cherish the times we had together I'll forever live my life in a way that he would respect. I will miss him more than words could ever express. I love you grandpa I'll never let you be forgotten.

“ Every conversation since I was little ended in “WFA” (watch for assholes) he truly lived by that. I’ll never forget skipping my 4th grade field trip half way through to go to the bar to visit his friend Sharon. We always laughed about that. I’ll never forget going to see Godzilla with grandpa and my brother cam. He would yell “GODZILLA GODZILLA” in the movie theater during the movie. Or our one peanut Eminem for dessert. I don’t think there’s anyone like him he truly had a heart of pure gold. The most honest, loyal, caring, selfless man. I always knew I could go to him with anything and he would just be there no questions asked. A few months ago I drove out to visit him and we went to lunch, there were about to close in 10 minutes but grandpa didn’t care. We were the only ones in there. Before this I drove around for 2 hours looking for the solar eclipse glasses everywhere but nobody had them. While we were eating a lady walked in with a stack of them and gave us 2 of them. We were so excited because he really wanted to see that and so did I. We drove back to his house and watched it in the backyard. I’ll forever be your eclipse partner.

“ Back in 1967 When Al (82nd Airborne and 1st Cav.) was getting out of Vietnam He stuffed some Vietnamese marijuana in an old radio cassette player. He was sending home and then he kept the whole neighborhood on Penrod Street in Detroit feeling very good the whole summer of 1968. And over the years, the story would be brought up at events and get togethers over the years about that summer from different people. And everybody would say oh yeah, I remember that “ Boy, was that some good weed!

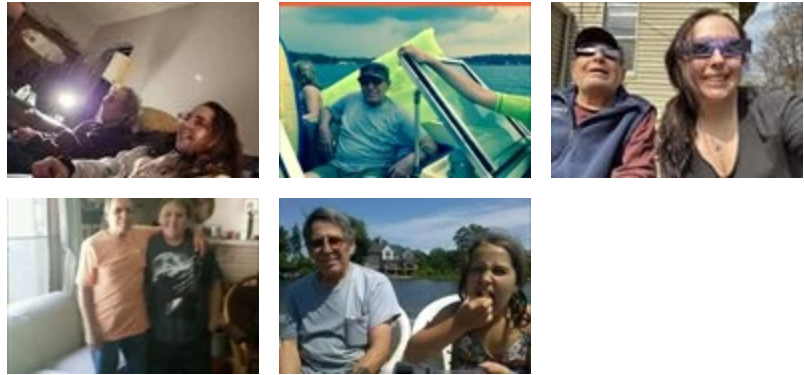

Or a smile and quiet laugh with a oh yeah !

So this year Philip , Cameron and Olivia and myself decided to play a little joke and get a old radio stuff it with the same weed and wrap it up with some old brown shipping paper and old Vietnam, stamps and dirty and make it look like the post office lost it for 50 years. So Philip was picking him up one day to go to the doctor and said hey dad The mailman was just here and left this package that was sent to the old Plainview address in Detroit to his wife Cathy. Then Al was looking at it, trying to remember this package and how the hell did they lose it for 50 years? And then he opened it up when he got home from the doctor and knew something was funny because it had a fresh weed smell to it,, And then Philip told him the whole story and AL and all of us got a huge laugh out of it. 😊
RIP My brother !
