“ Bernice and I met during the early days of my teaching career. She gave me good advice and we enjoyed a friendship that lasted over 60 years. Her home was filled with works of art and she had an artistic flare in her clothing. For that reason, I invited her to join the GLAAQN. While she never made a quilt, she was always anxious to attend meetings because she enjoyed seeing the quilts that the members made. She also enjoyed time spent with them. She was a loyal friend and I will truly miss her wit and friendship. Hilda

“ Ohhhh Aunt Bernice, I will miss you SO MUCH. You, Aunt DAGNABIT I forgot how to spell your sister’s name, my mother Vera Williams, Aunt Bonnie who REALLY taught me to sew and Aunt Libby. I’ll miss driving you to “ Thousand Mile Road” and the people I met with I was one of your Chauffeurs. Your STUPENDOUS HOME. I still have dreams about your home. I always WISHED that after you were gone, that it could be kept INTACT the way you had it and be apart of the Detroit Historical Museum. Going up the back entrance was INFINITY MORE FASCINATING than the front, except for that WONDERFUL OAK DOOR in the front. I will miss sewing for your home, sitting in the back sun porch. I will ESPECIALLY MISS YOUR SAYINGS! When someone screwed up even after knowing KNOWING it. You said “They don’t believe that Fat meat is greasy but you put the emphasis on GREEZEY! And when they came to the consequences of their actions! HOP SKIPPING AND JUMPING! I remember when you were RATTLED after visiting us when my brothers and I were young. Daddy had to tell you that you were trying to get into THE CAR! You disappeared for a while so you were probably in Germany. And you getting brown crayons for the children. I especially remember how you dressed. You TAUGHT! Emma Peel of the Avengers TV show HOW to dress. Daddy would not let me wear your skirts unless the hem touched the floor while kneeling. Thank you and your cousin for teaching my children. And for being there when ALL HELL BROKE LOOSE! When the information about my marriage came out. Tyler Perry should put THAT in a movie. Anyone who knew you was blessed. Unless they were idiots and got preached to

“ I am Aunt Bernice niece Darlene her Brother Moally's youngest daughter. One hot day in June 2001, I saw my Aunt coming out of Farmer Jack's with long blue jean coat and a sweat shirt under the coat and my Aunt was sweating bullets and I said to her Aunt Bernice you know you wrong it's 90 degrees out and you dress so layer and her explain to me was the secret pockets she had sewn inside the coat where the crooks can't find her money and all I could do is laugh. I miss you Aunt Bernice R.I.P
