*Thinking back over 35yrs ago when I met Wendy and she introduce me to her mother. The most sweetest kind W.O.G you could ever meet always a kind word or compliment coming from her mouth. It was a blessing to see her everytime she visited her daughter always a pleasant smile. with a few words of wisdom. It was truly a blessing to meet her and understand how easily it was to have love and respect for her as well as her daughter whom she loved dearly and her daughter loved her and showed it in her everyday life. Until the Lord called her home. God bless you Wendy. Well done they good and faithful servant. Take your heavenly rest. My prayers and condolences to the family.
(Mrs) Sister.Bertha Walker. Love Rhonda Blair (best friend to Wendy).
Love you.*

“ I'll always remember Aunt Bert's glorious smile, I never saw a frown. And for some reason Aunt Bert always seemed to look the same, maybe her joy within kept her skin, God knows. Another classic, her sweet punch during Zion Chapels delicious food filled fellowships. One thing that I love to repeat from time to time is something Aunt Bert would say way back when we had large Harris Family reunions. When we would be leaving from all the way down from Hazelhurst, Mississippi at Great Grandma's lovely house on the hill on the actual street called Harris Lane, to head back on our long journey to Detroit, MI. in our rusty, running hot, car. Aunt Bert with her wonderful smile and a slow run, maybe walk, following along our car (maybe the running was Aunt Lorraine), and waving, for sure, sending much love our way, she would say in that cute upper pitched girly country accent as we slowly and barely drove off "yall come back now ya hear". She may have even started this trend, who knows, either way, I love those memories and I will always cherish what times God gave us with our dear Aunt Bert.

“ Bertha Walker , my loving Sunday School teacher. Example of Proverbs 31 woman. She embodied a simple elegance, tender and sweet demeanor balanced with genuine tough love. Praying for the family in these times, as God has called another of His angels home.

“ I’m truly going to miss my dear sweet Aunt Bert....her bright smile and loving spirit...As a child Aunt Bert didn’t let a Sunday pass by without calling and saying “Hey There” just to let us know she was thinking about us...I know at this very moment my Auntie is smiling and saying “Hey There” from her new Glorious Home In Heaven ❤️🙏

A strong and fond memory of aunt Bert is singing with the Singing Angels. Aunt Bert would be so excited and enthusiastic when the children would sing Go Tell It On The Mountain. Thanks aunt Bert for all the great memories. You will be missed, but we all know you lived an exemplary Christian life and now you rest in our Loving Savior Jesus Christ's arms

Grateful for the times that I was able to share with Aunt Bert; precious memories of my childhood spent on Elery with her. Auntie was always tremendously sweet and her love is still felt in my heart even after long years and distance. I shall never forget the song that she taught the children in her Sunday School class on one of my visits to Zion Chapel in the 1970s: Bringing in the sheaves, bringing in the sheaves; we shall come rejoicing bringing in the sheaves.
