“ Baker as I called him was a great guy. We are hometown friends and talked often on the phone. He would always joke about the weather being so cold and he was goanna come back to Mineola. Our last conversation was him coming home and we both laughed because we both knew that was never happening. Baker was a fun guy; he could tell the funniest stories and laugh just as hard as the person he was talking to. His parents were kind friendly people, mama daught as we called her would give you the shirt off her back, and don't ever go to her house hungry, it was on. If she had not cooked, she could whip up a meal in it seems like seconds. I will miss the fun conversation with Baker, his healthy laugh and forever smiling. Rest in peace my friend we will meet again. God give strength to his family.

“ I remember coming over to the house and meeting him for the first time. We sat in that chair and talked for over TWO hours! Like we were old friends! When I visited him in the hospital to check in on him, again, we watched the baseball game and just talked like old friends. I'm no expert on people, but anytime you talk to someone and they make you feel like you are sitting with a friend, they are a wonderful person. How lucky his family is to have been loved, covered, and protected by this gentle soul. RIP, Mr. B.
