“ I'm gonna miss you Brandon. It was a pleasure to get to know you. It's weird because when we went out to drinks on St. Patty's day with our fellow police academy friends I told you that I felt sad that this might be the last time I see y'all again. You told me not to say that. That you were sure we'll run into each other again. I'm gonna hold you to that. Keep an eye out for us and I WILL get to hang out with you again one day.

“ My dear husband, I miss you so much. I don't know how I'm going to get through this one. We had so much more to accomplish together. So many more hugs, kisses, laughs and conversations I was looking forward to having with you. I thank you for being gentle, kind, honest and loving towards me and the kids. I thank you for stepping in and stepping up! Our wedding day was one of the happiest days of my live, your transition day was definitely the hardest. I'm forever grateful to God for allowing the kids and I to have 11 wonderful years with you, so many great memories for us to hold on to. I love you soooo much Forever and Always.

“ Brandon, I remember the day that you were born. Your mother's baby. I had had a baby three months prior and you all grew up together. Your mother took you both to high school every day. I am forever, grateful for her, having known her for almost 60 years. May you rest in eternal peace. 💔🙏

“ Since, the first day we met in 10th grade band class Brandon never changed. He always were a loyal, caring, overall an amazing guy, and an amazing friend. When Brandon met Kiy, I knew he found his soul mate. The love in his eyes were something I never had never before from Brandon. He loved his family from the earth to the heavens. Brandon has definitely left a lasting memory on everyone he has met. Brandon, I will truly miss you my friend. I'll continue to pray for God to strengthen your family because this definitely isn't easy. I love you, Brandon

“ I met Brandon in High School marching band, he was the very first person to introduce himself to me and he was always calm , cool and collected . Always ready to help and dedicated to his craft. My heart and prayers go out to his wife , children and family/friends . I'll never forget my last day in the band before i graduated in 2004 . He walked up to me and said he voted for me for MVP , i broke out laughing because i had just voted for him . Rest peacefully brother, may your memory be a blessing 🙏

“ Brandon was genuinely a stand up guy. I admired how he treated my friend Kiy and there kids. He was a good father and was always very kind and respectful every time I've ever been around him and you could tell that's how he actually was. One of my most memorable times around Brandon was when he and Kiy went on a double date with my husband and I to a concert and out to dinner, we all laughed and sang and had a good time. His presence will truly be missed.

“ Brandon, I don't know even know where to start. I could literally write about you all day and night. I am so grateful for the 11 yrs God allowed us to spend together. There were soooo many things I loved about you, your smile, gentleness, kind heart, work ethic, your patience, but most of all, I loved how you loved me and the kids. We are forever grateful for you. I will always cherish our love and memories.
