“ There is never comfort in loosing someone you have loved so dearly. But there is great joy in the memories of a love you shared. Keep those memories close to your heart and mouths. Speak of him often; the times you laughed, the occasions you celebrated, growing up, providing support, wisdom and guidance, and when you do, his smiling face and warm heart will surely come into view. You will find he is not far away. You already know what he would say to you, and so the love continues. I think of the special times he shared with my Dad, Keptler, . . . and Kingman, and JD- all of his "uncles" when they went bowling every Wednesday. The owner would open his place early just for them. And oh how they laughed and enjoyed each other. The owner commented, "Boy, I just love seeing those guys have so much fun." And who could forget him reciting the Gettysburg address, by heart, as he did on many special occasions. My thoughts and prayers are with all of his children and their families. You made him proud and I'm sure that is due in no small part to his and Aunt Grace's shining example. I know you all will miss him dearly as will all of the Miller family. On behalf of them all we send our love.

Much love,
Cousin Rosalyn

“ Dear Linda and family, Mr. Miller was such a joy to be around. He had a beautiful smile and contagious laugh. He was a God-fearing man who was devoted to his family.

May God be your strength and refuge during the days ahead. Your family created so many wonderful memories because you were always doing activities together. May your memories be a source of comfort.

Love never dies and his legacy lives on, to God be the glory for the stellar life Mr. Miller led. It was a blessing to have known him.

I pray today's service is a wonderful celebration of his life and what a blessing he was to all who knew him.

May God's peace be with you today.
