“ Only met Chuck once when he helped load a ton of popcorn for cub scouts, but he raised a strong daughter who I know that has made an impact on the things she has touched. He certainly made his grandson smile while he was helping me and I imagine that wasn't the only time. My condolences. I am sure we will meet again someday.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to Lynn and Chuck's family. The first time I met Chuck, he was cooking one of my favorite meals, "smothered pork chops". We hit it off instantly and both shared our love of cooking and introducing Lynn to our "southern favorites". I could see instantly what a thoughtful and caring person he was and believe anyone who met him would feel the same. He was truly loved by many and will be missed.

I pray for the comfort only God can bring you knowing Chuck is in His presence now. God Bless you and my sincere condolences.

“ Chuck, I am going to miss the way you would greet me. You never said hi, you always said "what?" ... lol. When I go to our shared Kroger's store, I think of you. I thank GOD for giving me the opportunity to know you. Also, I am grateful for the email that I received with the smiley face and the words Thank-you. I did not know that you were out of the office and I thought you sent it by mistake; but my mistake was not Thanking you for the "What's". To be absent from the body is to be with GOD.

“ My sincere condolences to Chuck's family. He was a kind, funny and caring person. I meet Chuck through my sister who knew him from Comcast, once we made that connection we hit it off right away and would laugh and joke with each other about everything. He loved his children and grand children and would always talk about you guys and his daughters dog. My fondest memory of Chuck and mine you there were many was when my sister and I ran across Chuck at a DTE co workers retirement party and he sat with us when I tell you we laughed, joked and partied all night. It was such a great time.

Chuck the angels in heaven are smiling to welcome you home. You will forever be in my thoughts and my heart. I'm going to miss you sooooo much!!! Stay strong family and know that Chuck will forever be in your hearts. And may God continue to watch over and strengthen you in the days and weeks to come.

“ My deepest sympathy to Lynn and to Chuck’s family. I met Chuck through Lynn. First time I met him, he offered to help me move a piece of furniture at my house (Lynn and I are neighbors). I thought he meant he would help me - but he literally stopped what he was doing, came over and got the furniture moved. Always willing to help and always a gentlemen.

Not only kind to people, Chuck won a special place with one of my dogs. Chuck, you are missed my many, but also by me, Sumo and Lucy. Rest In Peace, my friend.

“ My dearest Chucky. I really don't know what to say. My heart is broken. I don't know what life will be like without you. You were always my biggest cheerleader. My road dog. We have been best friends all of our lives. I cannot think back to my childhood at Mt. Olive or my life without you being there. We were always cutting up and getting in "fun" trouble all of the time. To say that we were "best lifelong friends" can't even begin to define our lifetime of true friendship.

The Bible says, "In order to have friends you must show yourself to be friendly". And that we did. I am so grateful that God chose you and me to experience this life together. I thank you for teaching me sooooo much, even how to drive. I will always remember you, love and cherish all of the 60+ years that God blessed us with. Until I see you again. Legoria

“ As it has been so often expressed, Chuck's departure from us represents a devastating loss that is hard to come to terms with. The friendship he and I began more than 44 years ago was nurtured throughout with ongoing demonstrations of mutual respect, genuine appreciation, and unyielding trust such that our friendship quickly elevated to one of family brotherly love. From the time we began our professional careers at Chrysler Defense/General Dynamics, he and I journeyed along a parallel path that introduced an array of promising opportunities we took advantage of and a number of painful challenges we learned to overcome. On the social side of things, he became acquainted with my family and I his, and we shared common interest in areas that are far too many to list. There are a multitude of things we can say regarding his awards, achievements, civic and charitable contributions and the like, yet from my observation, where the light shines brightest is on his charismatic personality and the richness of his character. You always felt good when he was around and a bit incomplete when he wasn't. The quality of my overall experience with Chuck was exemplary, but I feel the duration was much too short. Yet I feel blessed to have the good fortune of being able to reflect back on an abundance of very precious memories, especially those where we routinely and proudly recognized each other as inseparable Brothers.

Rest in Heaven my Brother!

“ It is always difficult to try and accurately capture the essence of a person, the arc of their entire life, in a paragraph or two. With Chuck there simply is no way to do him justice in such a short format. But I have too much respect for Chuck not to try.

I will start by simply listing five words that best summarize my feelings about Chuck: courageous, stoic, classy, loving and relentlessly positive. The manner in which he faced the cancer that took his life was amazing. Always positive, never a complaint, not once did I ever hear him say "why me? ." We talked a lot about many different things, including our respective experiences with cancer, but every conversation ended up being about his job, his family and friends, the joy sports brought to him and his love for Lynn.

It is something of cliché to say someone passed after living a life well led but in Chuck's case it is so true. So interested in so many things, so curious and knowledgeable, so athletic, and so damn funny.

I am so fortunate to have had the opportunity to spend quality time with Chuck on and off the golf course, to see how happy he and Lynn were together and to watch him go toe to toe with cancer. Simply inspirational.

Rest in Peace my friend.

“ The last and best memory I have of you was a week before your passing. My daughter Makenna and I were at your and Lyn’s house and you were sitting at the table watching her create an abstract painting for your dining room wall. You kept asking her “how do you know when it’s done?” Makenna said “I just know.” You kept asking, “but HOW do you know?”
We laughed and laughed. Your charm and humor was the best. You will be truly missed.

“ Chuck, we last saw each other at a homegoing for a friend....your passing is truly a shock.
I can reflect on the good times we had at General Dynamics; you, Shirley, Pam and I would cut up with laughter and stories in the Purchasing area. My nickname was “Swanee” as all your friends had nicknames. We had fun with the Tae bo team, playing softball with No Mercy, your helping me when I had an injury, etc. You’ve been a great friend to so many and will truly be missed. Comforting prayers are extended to your family during this challenging time. I know your buddy Dwayne was greeting you at the gates.
Rest In Peace Chuck. 🙏

Christmas, 2020, a great day with Chuck, son, daughter, grandson ,Lynn and her two daughters. She and Chuck invited all over to their place for a grand celebration. Chuck was up and feeling well, dancing with Lynn and his daughter. Great fun, food and games. I hoped and prayed we would be able to do the same next Christmas. God had other plans.

I will treasure the times we had there and on the golf course. I was planning on improving my game with Chuck's instructions.

There was never a time you would have known he was ill. Always a smile, never a complaint. Even the last time I visited with him, while he was lying on his bed, having a hard time even to sit up, he said he was going to the doctor the following day and was going to get a treatment which would give him new found energy, to make a full recovery. He said he loved Lynn and hoped to be with her for a long time.

Prayers go out to his family for them to get through their loss.

“ Like everyone else, I’m still in shock at your passing. All that’s left are memories of the great times and many laughs that we shared. What stands out to me are the nicknames that you assigned to me over the years. I was “fade away” when we played in the GDLS basketball league. Later I became “Leon”, as in Leon Spinks”, when I cracked a tooth at work. Finally, I became “Cuz”, since we always seem to land in the same trouble spots on the golf course. All in all, we shared many laughs and great times over the past 30 plus years. Rest In Peace, “Cuz” you will never be forgotten.

“ Our paths crossed at Mt. Olive Baptist Church where we sang in the Celestial Choir and played football with other choir members in front of the church and annex. Back then we called him “Chucky.” I will always remember that Easter Sunday when he squirted ketchup all over my pink dress, and that he taught me how to bowl. No reflection on his teaching ability, but to this day, I still have a straight approach into the pocket (between the one and three pins for a right hander). I never did master any kind of curve on the ball. I haven’t seen Chuck since I left Detroit, but I’ll always remember that impish smile, his “tell” that something – good or covered with ketchup – was about to happen. Peace eternal and prayers to the family.

“ I met Chuck when I worked at DTE, during a difficult time in my life. Everyday he put a smile on my face, whether it be grabbing my hand and dancing to telling me to “get my dusty bottom” in the car for lunch. We golfed together, we talked together, we laughed together, and most of all Chuck was such an authentic guy that shared so much of himself with you that you knew you had a friend for life. I will miss you dearly Chuck. To Chuck’s family, just know how sorry I am and how much he was loved by those that knew him. You are in my thoughts and prayers.
