“ To My Family....My Sister, Brother, and Nephews....

My heart is with every one of you right now. Losing Paris feels unreal, and I know we are all hurting in our own way. I just want you all to know this:

I love you. I see you. And I'm grieving with you.

We didn't just grow up together...we became family through love, even though it wasn't through blood. Every memory I carry from childhood has all of you in it. We laughed together, grew up together, got in trouble together, and were covered by her love together.

She loved each of us in a way only she could.... DEEP and full of God's grace. And because of that love, we are bonded forever. Even in this heartbreak, I feel grateful that I got to grow up with all of you, to be part of something real, something rooted in her love and her faith. She was truly of Woman of God regardless of ALL of her trials and tribulations!

Please know that I am praying for each of you. I am holding you close in my heart. If you need anything a call, a prayer, a moment to cry, or just someone to sit in silence with...I am here. 🙏

May her love continue to live through us, and may we hold each other a little tighter in her honor.

I love you all so much. Even though I am distant, and sometimes in my own little world. 🙏❤️🙏

“ In Loving Memory of My Stepmom Paris! ❤️❤️❤️❤️

There are no words deep enough to express the immense PAIN that I feel right now. The words to describe this loss does not exist. You were my mother's best friend growing up and under the craziest circumstances, and when life was uncertain and we had nowhere else to turn, you took us in when we had to move immediately. You loved us as your own, without hesitation, without limits. You showed us GOD within you, right from the beginning! ❤️🙏

I will never forget how you opened your home and your heart to my mom and I. All my childhood memories on Greenlawn are filled with you and your family....laughter....we had sooo much fun, love, your Sunday Dinners and deep southern home cooked meals....your peach cobbler was nothing to play with, prayers, and moments that shaped who I am today. You gave me a place to belong, and I will forever be grateful for the way you loved me and my children so genuinely.

I have cried for days because the pain cuts deep. We move through life taking time for granted, never imagining that one day someone we love so dearly will no longer be here. I never expected you to leave so soon. Yet, even in my grief, I know this to be true....God loved you most and called you home. Though your passing was sudden and shocking to us, I rest in knowing you were a woman of God, full of prayer, Scripture, and encouragement for everyone around you.

You were ALWAYS and forever will be my "other mother," and I will always love you for the strength, warmth, and kindness you poured into me AND Mommy. Thank you for every moment you prayed over us, for every word of encouragement when I was down, and for loving me with a love that was truly Christlike.

I'm writing this through tears, tears are literally falling as I write this....wishing I could have been by your side more often. But please know this....you were deeply loved, you are deeply loved, and your memory will live in us forever.

May you rest in perfect peace. I will see you again one day. Until then, I carry you in my heart. ❤️❤️❤️🙏🏻🙏🏻💔💔😞 Love Always, Kea
