“ November 23, 2024 and Dwain Love was on my mind. I googled his name and discovered his obituary. My heart is heavy because Dwain is the kind of person you think of being around forever. Back in the 70's he was my hairstylist. I was usually the last customer of the day, and we had some laughing good times while he styled my hair. Dwain had such a warm, comforting spirit and a sweet soul and he loved to laugh and make others laugh. His heart was as big and tall like he was. His salon was always packed and it always felt like a happy, joyful place with he and his assistant Turk. I looked forward to my salon visits. I recall looking him up and calling him back in 2017 (I think) to ask him about the color that he used in my hair back in the day. We had a nice little chat and he told me that his wife had passed. I couldn't imagine him being alone, so God finally called him home to be with his wife. To think that Dwayne is no longer here to laugh and make others laugh is very sad to me. I thought about him periodically and wondered how he was doing. But life has a funny way of marching on by with everyone being busy getting thru life, and before we know it..... Now I wish that I would have stayed in touch with Dwain through the years. I pray that the family and friends have adjusted and have God's peace with you being gone physically but are keeping you in their hearts. I know you are resting, happy in heaven, and making the Angels laugh because that is surely where you deserve to be. Rest in Glory my friend until we once again laugh in those glorious clouds surrounding Heaven.

“ Dwain embodied his name. It's not an accident that he is a Love. I can truly say that Dwain made "love" an action word as he spent time building strong relationships, sharing his wisdom, time and resources to make sure everyone he met was able to live and love well. Dwain's great smile will forever be etched in my memory. Rest well, my brother! Chere Nabor.
