

Elisa Alido Abellera

April 22, 1934 - February 25, 2026

Elisa was born to Pascual Alido and Olympia Caraga in Borongan, Eastern Samar and the youngest amongst her brothers and sisters. Elisa was raised with strong values rooted in faith, resilience, and compassion. These principles guided her throughout her life.

Elisa was a self-supporting, hardworking student who became a nurse through self determination, perseverance and hard work. She was also an active member and leader of the Chinese General Hospital, College of Nursing, Class of 1964. Her passion and love as an Operating Room Registered Nurse kept her motivated until retirement. Elisa was a woman of quiet strength, gentle wisdom, and unwavering love. She created a legacy of warmth that will live on in the stories she told, the meals she lovingly prepared, and the comforting embrace she always offered.

With deep love and heartfelt remembrance, we honor the life of Elisa Caraga Alido Abellera, who passed away surrounded by the love she so generously gave throughout her life. Her journey on earth has concluded, but the stories of her benevolence and the wisdom she imparted will resonate through generations.

She will be deeply missed, forever cherished, and lovingly remembered.

May she rest in eternal peace

“ Grandma Elisa was a gift to my life. We had many memories from day time adventures to watching late night musicals. She loved to read medical books and share the knowledge learned. Though my heart aches, I am forever grateful that her memories live on. I will miss you with all my heart ❤️
