“ When I learned to dance I was standing on top of your feet. When I had scarlet fever and couldn't go to school you picked up all my homework, encouraged me that I could finish it all and catch up and I passed my classes with all 'A.'s'; you taught me without knowing what strength and perseverance looked like; when I was going through rough times and told you "I don't know what to do".. you gentle said "Sis, when you don't know what to do then don't do anything; but I know you and you will always do the right things!" You kissed me on forehead and said "Never forget the strength you have to overcome anything." Today, my heart is so broken but I can hear you saying those words brother. I'll always remember and will love you eternally! Your baby sister, Denise 🥀😭❤️
