“ Deacon Slaughter will be missed by his New Hope church family. He was truly a soldier in the army of God. He listened to the members and consistently worked on meeting their needs by showing them the love of Christ. The food pantry exists in its current form because Deacon wanted to do something about the food insecure in the community during Covid, whether the church was open or not. He said what he meant, and meant what he said. He was funny and genuine, and if he had your back, you knew you were in good shape. I am honored to have known such a mighty good man. Love to his family.

Deacon Slaughter was an outstanding man, an exemplary example of how a husband should love & treat his wife, how a father & grandfather should love & treat his family & how a mighty man of God should love & treat his fellow man. He was instrumental in NH's Feed the Homeless program & when that was halted because of COVID he said we're not going to sit still; let's start a food pantry. He was instrumental in getting COVID vaccines set up at he church. He didn't just identify gaps, he worked diligently to get those gaps filled. He was kind, full of fight for everything he believed in. His love & leadership will be missed.
