“ John 16:22 “So with you: Now is your time of grief, but I will see you again and you will rejoice, and no one will take away your joy.”

In this time of grief I send you all my sincerest condolences. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. And we know that is where Deacon Joe is. Though we may mourn, God dries all tears and heals all hearts. We are family and have been forever and whatever you need we are here and stand with you during this insurmountable loss. But know that God is with you every step of every day until we all are reunited in the body of Christ. I love you all dearly.

*Our Deepest Condolences,
Hannah Curry & the Curry Family 🙏*

“ I haven't seen Josef since high school, so thanks to social media, I was able to reconnect with him a few years back. From what I can glean, later in life, he was as much the gentleman and fountain of positivity as he was back then. No matter what circles you moved in back in the day, Josef treated you like a friend and it was easy to be around a guy with a great attitude and infectious personality. I was a new kid, so to speak and it was people like Josef who helped me start to fit in and I never forgot that. He always had a wicked sense of style, sense of humor, and Lord he was fun to watch on the gridiron. I don't have to guess at what a positive imprint he left on this world...rest in peace, my friend.

“ Sending heartfelt condolences, prayers and love to the Hairston family. I grew up with the family on Bewick. I am heartbroken over this loss as I looked upon Joe as my little brother. We had reconnected over the past few years when I was working at TJ Maxx and waited on him. It was such a beautiful and pleasant surprise. Then I found out we have been living in the same community.

He has always been sweet and kind.

Bewick strong!!!

Love,

Tammy Woods
