“ Pierre & Deborah

Hey sis - I remember the first time I met you and Popa Roland and the short time between then and now they were good memories for me

But now I know that words can not ease the pain nor make the sadness go away, only time.

I can only say, during this time of healing you will feel broken-hearted, so It is expected that you will experience pain and hurt. However, if you believe in the Lord you will find relief in him. The Bible tells us he is close to those who are broken-hearted and those who feel crushed in spirit. So I will say to you Belinda, when you are hurting call out to Jesus. He will give you the relief and peace you need.

Much love

We are here for you.

You exemplified the commandment of God that says “ Honor your father and your mother: that your days may be long upon the land which the LORD your God gives you.” You did that and you did it reverently, lovingly, seriously, painstakingly and truly joyfully! Memories will live on forever, the wisdom your earthly daddy shared with you is worth more than silver and gold. All who knew you knew him through you! My heart understands your in this night season, and just know Joy will come in the morning... Much Love for you my Sister!

My deepest condolences for the lost of your dad. You are the big sister that I never had, I thank god for bringing you into my life. I know how much your dad has meant to you, and in my eyes he was your daddy, your mother, your best friend and your mentor. As you once told me your dad said "he was your daddy and god is your father". So, you will always have both watching over you.

You have always spoken highly of “Daddy” from the first day we met. Listening to you talk about him and seeing the smile and glow on your face let me know he was very special to you and you loved him dearly. There will be a rollercoaster of emotions as you grieve his passing, but it will get better. My prayer is that you will be comforted and find peace during this time. In your time, please know I’m here for you.
