I also read your story and wanted to reach out to you with some comfort. It reminded me of my own mother and my loss I am thankful you could be together. You will never get over the loss but it gets better with the memories of all the times you laughed and cried and shared life together. I share your sorrow.

I just read your story on msn news and I am in tears I know it 's nothing that i can say that can make you feel better, but I am truly sorry for your loss. I love how close you and your mom were even at the end. Take comfort in knowing that you were there with your mom and that she was not alone. She has such a beautiful smile and you are such a wonderful person to give up your job and home to move with your mom. I know if we were in the same city after this pandemic is over I would give you a hug. I will keep you in my prayers.

“ Dear Glenda, Linda was a friend. She always sent a card to me during every holiday, birthday and wedding anniversary. We met at CAUMC where I am a member. She often visited there, especially for the pancake breakfasts, funerals, etc. I will miss receiving cards from her. She was a very warm and friendly person, easy to know. You have my deepest sympathy and condolences. You may not recognize my name. However, if you see me again, you will recognize me. We knew the same families at Peace Baptist Church. We also ran into each other at community meetings. My heart goes out to you in the loss of your mother, one so near and dear. I have lit a candle for you and may you find peace and comfort knowing that others care during you time of grief and sorrow.

“ Hello Dear Glenda,
I live in Texas and read your story. Your Mom is a beautiful Angel who is ALWAYS with you now. Think you two were always together before well imagine now 🙏😊. I'm very very sorry I can imagine how hard . I'm in my late 30's and my mom just turned 60 but it has always been us two only. I'm an only child and my dad abandoned us when I was young. I ask God our father to keep you in the palm of his hands and to give you the strength you need every day. It's a blessing and a miracle you got to care for your mom till the end she was so happy and so comforted you were there always ! Sending all my love and prayers to you !! God bless you and your beautiful Mom who is with your Dad too now :)

“ I first met Linda when I was a freshman at University of Detroit/Mercy. I walked into the library for a job interview, and there was this strikingly beautiful, tall, sophisticated woman who was absolutely lovely. She hired me on the spot and ever since that day over 40 years ago, she has been a mentor to me, a sister, and a friend. She had the most vibrant personality and a rare gift of building close bonds with everyone she met. She was the best confidant and her heart was always open-she endlessly helped others. Her spirit will be unmatched and forever admired. I will hold Linda close to my heart always. My condolences goes out to Glenda. May she rest in peace.

“ Cousin G ,

My deepest condolences through this time, I'm here for you in your time of need. Big Aunties and my relationship were beyond exceptional, from visiting the casino yearly to talking every Sunday. It was auntie's love, prayers, and courage that motivated me to keep working hard in life. Aunties' prayers for me became my blessings, and as I move on in life, I will keep the tradition alive of having a healthy prayer life. I could write more, but we still have our Sunday's talk and casino trips; although it may not be physically, we still hanging spiritually! Love you
