“ Whenever I came to your home there was always laughter. I haven't seen you in a long time but you and Uncle Howard left a lasting impression on me. I was always proud of you. Everytime I hear the song summer breeze it reminds me of the summer's I spent with you and the family on Cheyenne 😊. One thing about my Aunt Mamie she lived her best life ALL THE TIME like a QUEEN should! Gone but you will never be forgotten. Sista

“ Auntie you wore many hats in your lifetime. When I saw you, you were always dressed from head to toe, and you would always tell me (Oh! you are Mattie's girl) then we would laugh, and I would give you a big hug anyway. Auntie there is one hat you wore it was your crown some saw it maybe some didn't. That crown made you smile, made your laughter soft it also let me know how that love was deep, deep in your heart never spoken yet I knew it was there. Auntie you will be missed by Mattie's girl, rest in the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob's arms. Love Ann

“ My dear sister even though we didn't talk much every day but when we did talk we had some long conversations that lead us to old time things we did when we were younger, those talks brought us so much laughter. Sister you will be truly missed. Love Marie

Aunt Mamie was my girl, I had so much fun with her as a child. She took me on vacation with her and the family to Toronto Canada. We visit all the historical site there, I remember her New Years party and how she would address me as red girl. I loved her quiet gentle voice and she had such impeccable taste in fashion, she wore mink coats, Louis Vuitton shoes, handbags. she had it all. Aunt Mamie I will hold you in my heart forever rest in peace. Love you Darleen

“ My aunt Mammie was misunderstood by most because of her sense of humor. She was actually funny. As a child growing up I spent a lot of precious time at her home. My humor and hers are similar. Sometimes the humor may come a little raw but funny. The last time I seen my aunt was at Jane and Lawrence art xzibit. We talked and laughed. God bless her.

“ Mamie Paige was my grandmother, and she should have been a comedian as much as she had me and my family laughing but that was definitely not her intent which made my grandmother even funnier. Mamie lived a long life, and she lived her life the way she wanted. There are so many life lessons that I learned from my grandmother, but one is to never co-sign anything for anyone no matter what. I really did not understand why my grandmother said that but when I became an adult and worked for an automotive finance company in their collections department, I then understood why my grandmother told me never to co-sign. Mamie Paige was a tough Woman. This is evident by the long life she lived. Mamie Paige left this earth when she was ready, and I believe if she were able to live an eternal life she would have opted for that package. Many people knew of my grandmother as a business owner, spiffy, and a woman who spoke her mind and she was all of those things and more. Mamie Paige was definitely resilient because she lived through tough times, and she weathered all of those tough storms/times. I am blessed that my son was able to have 13 years with his great-grandmother to gain knowledge of her past and journey in this world. I feel that the time my son spent with his great-grandmother was a priceless gift that he will definitely learn to appreciate when he becomes an adult.
