

Ngozi Carol Anyanwu

March 25, 1964 - February 12, 2023

Ms. Ngozi Carol Anyanwu made her transition on February 12th, 2023. Please encourage the Anyanwu family with words of love and encouragement on our Tribute page. To send flowers, or a memorial gift, to the family of Ngozi Carol Anyanwu please visit our Sympathy Store.

Previous Events

Family/Friends Time

MAR 3. 9:00 AM - 10:00 AM (ET)

Shrine of the Little Flower Basilica
2100 Twelve Mile Road
Royal Oak, MI 48073

Funeral Service

MAR 3. 10:00 AM (ET)

Shrine of the Little Flower Basilica
2100 Twelve Mile Road
Royal Oak, MI 48073

Tribute Wall

JA

“ 6 files added to the album NGOZI ANYANWU

---

Jessica Anyanwu - March 10, 2023 at 01:04 PM

“My mom was a fighter. A woman of valor who withstood every challenge that came her way. There was nothing she couldn't handle because she knew that God was always by her side. She had a smile that had the power to brighten everyone's day. When my mom had reasons to complain, she still remained happy. No matter how much she had, she was content. I often wondered how she did this because it is rare to find someone with such character. But she was one of a kind, the type of person you only meet once in a lifetime.

My mom taught me the importance of finding joy in every situation. When she was going through all the challenges of life, it was never visible through her attitude or character. My mother faced her share of tribulations, but at peace, she always remained. She still had so much to give to this world, but with what she has imparted to me, I continue to carry on.

My mom always did everything she could to ensure her family's happiness. No matter how busy or tired she was, she would ensure everyone else was content. She would spend hours helping me study for my exams, even though she had a lot of work to do. She would spend hours cooking my favorite meals for me simply because I asked. She would drive me to the store when I asked, even if it was just one thing I needed. She did all this to make sure that I was happy. I now recognize the actual value of all these things that she did for me.

My mom spread joy and kindness to everyone she encountered. One of her most significant impacts was in her classroom, where she lectured in Biology and Nutrition. Students would write to her, letting her know how big of an impact she had on their life. She spent countless hours outside the classroom preparing her lectures and helping students. Whatever she did, she gave her best effort. Not because anyone expected it from her but because that was who she was.

Although she is no longer physically here, she has not departed from me. I still hear her voice and reflect upon her words of wisdom every day. This life I live, I now live for both of us. What she did not get a chance to do, I will strive to achieve. Her legacy does not end here; it is just the start of a new chapter. A wise man once said, "There comes a time when you have to choose between turning the page and closing the book," Today, we do not close the book; we turn the page. We bid her farewell for now that one day we may reunite again.

---

Jessica Anyanwu - March 10, 2023 at 01:01 PM

CH

“Carol was an exceptional educator and just a wonderful human being. WCCCD has lost one of its best. She always brought joy to our workplace! My condolences to her family. Dr. Cynthia Herald

---

Cynthia Herald - March 02, 2023 at 02:46 PM