“ I worked with Saku at WSU And I enjoyed calling him daily bugging him about mediocre computer problems that he was always able to solve... In addition, as a thank you for his hard work and dealing with my annoyances, for Christmas this year I sent him a case of teriyaki beef jerky; which was his favorite snack! When he told me he was moving, I was so hurt because we established such a great relationship and to learn of this news is simply heartbreaking!

“ I worked with Saku at Wayne State. He was more than a co-worker/employee, he was a friend. He was the happiest, most positive person I ever met in my life and since I met him, I have tried to live my life like him. When he put in his 2 weeks, it was sad for us because we loved having him here. You always knew, if Saku was working, you didn't have to worry, he would take care of any issue that came in. I will always miss talking about video games, music and cool new tech things with him.
