“ Shelly, Shelly, Shelly!....

I have a loss for words right now. My fondest memories of you is when we would tag team at Henry Ford Kingswood Hospital and filled those beds up till the joint was full! Then we would eat thai food or pizza, listen to music or talked the night away because we knew we had met the hospital's census. You were always so giving, and made sure you fed the security officer that was on shift with us for the evening! You were a rock star! I Just found out from Kristen this evening as I was texting you to tell you that I finally made my move to Tennessee. We were suppose to be bus buddies on the ride to Ilene's casino trip last month. I also remember our long talks about your beautiful, smart and successful girls. You treasured them like the jewels they are. You loved them to pieces. I will be sure to check up on them. You would want me to. They were your life. You will be missed profusely lady! I'm a little teary-eyed right now, but I know Heaven has gained a beautiful spirit.

To Kim, Kristen and Kyra... a few words to comfort you:

*"Those we love don't go away,
They walk beside us everyday,
Unseen unheard but always near,
So loved, so missed and so very dear."*

If I know Shelly, (as you ladies know as Mommy and Nana), she is with you everywhere you go! May God console and comfort you through your grieving process. It will be difficult, but He is going to get you through those tough days....I promise!

Shelly, until we meet again...Rest peacefully my friend!

Love, your friend Beverly💖

“ Memories is what we have to keep our loved ones alive. For many,many years we did everything together. We took our moms out every other week. On one of those weeks we took them on a 1 day trip to Atlantic City. They were so happy and that was the start of my moms world traveling. We bowled with your mom. Wow, I'm going to truly miss you. Until we meet again my sister/friend, take care of the rest of the family.

Love  you
Ilene

We had a group of fellow teammates, Shelly included, who use to party every Friday after work. We had such fun partying at the Pink Panther. Although Shelly was a freshie in high school when I was a senior, she was loads of fun to socialize with especially in music class. I will always remember your smile. Rest peacefully.
