“ I was a newly hired employee of the old City of Detroit Controller's Office and Steve was a member of the Budget Department. Although we worked in different departments, Steve knew I was a new employee with City and fully embraced me as a City employee and immediately we became friends for life. Although Steve left the City for a while, he came back and bought back many stories of his travels and experiences. I can say Steve was one of the friendliest person I have ever met. RIP My friend. We all will miss you.
